- ✓ 13. "Good evening one and all present here! Today is a very sad day for us 1/1 in the office as we have to say goodbye to our wonderful coworker. He/she has worked with us for a long time and has never let us down. He/she has always been extremely professional, hard-working and a team player. He/she has a brilliant mind and always brought creative new ideas to the team. He/she has not only been a fantastic colleague, he/she has also been a true friend. He/she always took the time to ask how his/her fellow colleagues were, always had time to listen and talk to anybody with a problem and has been a great joy in the office. He/she was always full of energy and cheerful to see everyone on Monday mornings. He/she is a great loss to our company but we were lucky to have the opportunity to work with him/her. We all wish you the best in the future. I know that whatever the future holds, he/she will excel and continue to be successful. We will miss you but this isn't goodbye as we know you will keep in touch and we will see you sooner rather than later. Thank you for everything you have given to the company." ✓ 17) "It is my honour to introduce the stalwart member of Women in Leadership' for the last ten years. Over that time she has served in every office: secretary, treasurer, chairperson, chief fundraiser, education officer to name a few and in some roles several times over. Her passionate dedication to promoting public speaking as an important component of empowerment is inspiring. We estimate that she has personally mentored at least 100 new speakers and has set an extraordinary 'yes, you can' example for many more. We see her as capable, confident and fluent - never at a loss for words. But what you probably don't know is that this woman once stuttered, stammered and blushed. Yes, she was temporarily paralyzed, struck dumb by the mere thought of standing in front of an audience to speak. How she got from awkward tongue tied silence to an eloquent front line spokesperson is the story she will share with us tonight. Ladies and gentlemen, I present before you - Rose Stephenson!"
